CERTIFICATION TRAINING

for

MUNICIPAL SOLID WASTE LANDFILL SUPERVISORS

April 25-28, 2006

NEW TRAINING
OFFERED FOR 2006
(see inside for details)

ABOUT THE TRAINING...

Certification Training for Municipal Solid Waste (MSW) Landfill Supervisors for 2006 will be held in April at the S.C. Association of Counties facility at 1919 Thurmond Mall in Columbia.

The primary goal of the training is to provide individuals who work as MSW landfill and MSW incinerator ash landfill operators a certification program designed to improve operational practices at their landfills. The training will increase awareness of the impact that the operational practices have on human health, safety and the environment.

Participants will gain insight on:

- operating a facility that is safe for employees and customers;
- maintaining regulatory compliance and environmental integrity at the facility;
- operating profitably and/or cost effectively; and
- improving industry standards through better operation by well-trained solid waste management professionals.

Participants successfully completing the course and examination will fulfill the requirements of R.61-107.14, Solid Waste Management: Municipal Solid Waste Landfill Operator's Certification.

QUESTIONS & ANSWERS

Q. What is a MSW landfill supervisor?
